3 Goals of QGIS.ORG

1. To steer the QGIS project in order to maximise its good standing in the GIS community and ensure that we reach as many potential users who can benefit from our work as possible.
2. Coordination of QGIS project activities and disbursement of available financial resources for initiatives that will ensure the long term growth and sustainability of the QGIS project.
3. Marketing of QGIS through orientation courses, case studies, informative meetings or articles in GIS related media and any other suitable means.
4. Disseminate information to the QGIS community to keep them informed about planned and past activities including things such as the financial state of the project, initiatives that will be carried out on behalf of the QGIS project and so on.
5. Support of research or studies around QGIS.
6. Foster regular meetings of the QGIS community.
7. Act as a liaison between the community of QGIS user groups, and third parties interested in knowing about or supporting QGIS.

4 QGIS.ORG Legal entities

1. The Board
2. The QGIS PSC
3. Two non-Board members who shall act as financial auditors

These three entities are in place to support and represent the broader QGIS Community.

5 Voting members

5.1 Types of voting members

1. QGIS Community voting members
2. QGIS User group voting members
3. One OSGEO representative voting member

5.2 Composition, appointment and role of voting members

The voting members shall be appointed according to the following scheme:

- QGIS Community Voting Members: For each user group voting member, there will be one voting community member elected.
- QGIS User Group Voting Members: One voting member per QGIS country level user group. Each user group will nominate who their voting member shall be.
- OSGeo Voting Member: One voting member representing the OSGeo foundation put forward by the OSGeo board.

5.3 Voting member terms

Voting memberships will be valid until:

- The voting member resigns
- There is a motion and passed vote to remove the member
- A voting member gets elected to the PSC in which case voting membership of the new PSC member will be relinquished and a new voting member will be elected in the new PSC member's place. Outgoing PSC members that were previously voting members will need to be re-elected into the voting membership should they wish to return to their former role.

5.4 Election and eligibility of QGIS User Group voting members

- Only country-level user groups may put forward a nominated voting member.
- In order to be recognised, a user group must be approved by the PSC.
- The user group should democratically nominate one person from within their ranks to act as their representative within the QGIS.ORG voting membership.

5.5 Election and eligibility of QGIS Community voting members

- QGIS community members will be nominated and voted for by the established QGIS committers.
- Any active QGIS community member will be eligible for nomination as a QGIS.ORG voting member.

5.6 Honorable members

Honorable members are individual persons who receive special acknowledgment for extraordinary achievements in the QGIS project. Applications for the nomination of an honorable member should be directed to the PSC. The general meeting shall vote about the acceptance of a new honorable member. Honorable members shall have voting rights.

6 The board

6.1 Terms of members of the board

Board members will serve for a two year term. On expiration of a board member's term, nominees from within the QGIS PSC shall be put forward by the QGIS PSC Members. The outgoing board member shall automatically receive a nomination unless he/she no longer wishes to serve on the board.

6.2 Composition of the board

The board shall include at minimum these roles:

1. Chair
2. Vice-chair
3. Treasurer

6.3 The Chairperson

The QGIS PSC will vote annually to appoint or continue the existing appointment of the chair.

6.4 Honorary PSC members

Gary Sherman, as founder of the QGIS project, shall be accorded lifetime honorary membership on the QGIS PSC from its inception. By common vote, QGIS.ORG may award any individual a lifetime honorary seat on the board.

6.5 Board and PSC Member remuneration

Board and PSC members will receive no remuneration for their services other than reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred when carrying out activities on behalf of the board.

7 Administration of QGIS.ORG

The annual general meeting (AGM) will be held via a virtual forum The online location and date is to be determined and communicated by the board in advance of the meeting. The board shall publish a meeting agenda prior to the meeting.

The meeting shall be open to all QGIS community members. Only voting members can vote on any motion. Substantial proposals made by QGIS community members for future QGIS.ORG activities should be provided to the board in writing to be added as agenda items in advance of the meeting. Minor proposals should be presented to the board and dealt with independently of the AGM.

The annual general meeting shall deal with the following:

1. Approval of the annual report
2. Approval of the annual financial report
3. Approval of the annual budget
4. Election of the board chair
5. The nomination and election for the outgoing board and PSC member replacements
6. Confirmation or selection of the financial auditors
7. Resolutions / voting of proposals made by the board and / or voting members
8. Definition and revision of the statutes
9. Deal with any matters arising

All other decisions and competences are the responsibility of the QGIS Board.

The board shall list proposals submitted by QGIS.ORG community members in the publication of the meeting agenda.

Extraordinary meetings can be convened by the board or on demand of at least 1/5 of the voting members.

Every officially convened general meeting has a quorum. At elections and for voting a simple majority (more than 50%) of the present members decides, except for the cases listed in sections 7 and 9.4.

The reporting year and the accounting year starts at January 1 and ends at December 31.

8 Financial arrangements

The financial revenues of QGIS.ORG shall originate from donations, sponsorships, grant funding and other diverse sources. No membership fees shall be collected.

The general meeting shall elect two financial auditors.

Limited Liability: the QGIS user group can only be held liable up to the amount of the current assets of the association. Personal liability of members of the board or individual other members are excluded.

9 Additional Regulations

1. The protocol of the general meeting shall be provided by the board and sent to the voting members prior to each general meeting. The chair of the association authorizes the release of the protocol.
2. Official correspondence of the Association shall be carried out in English, except when required by local authorities.
3. The official domicile of the association shall be determined by the board. The group is legally represented by the chair's signature and a signature of an additional member of the board. The treasurer has sole authority to carry out financial transactions provided they are within the bounds of the annual budget authorized by the general meeting.
